DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Newly submitted claims 15-26 are directed to an invention that lacks unity with the invention originally claimed for the following reasons: These newly submitted claims relate to newly presented independent claims and claims dependent thereon of different statutory subject matter that do not share a special technical feature with pending Claim 1 since Claim 1 is deemed anticipated as set forth below.
2. Since applicant has received an action on the merits for the originally presented invention, this invention has been constructively elected by original presentation for prosecution on the merits. Accordingly, claims 15-26 are withdrawn from consideration as being directed to a nonelected invention. See 37 CFR 1.142(b) and MPEP § 821.03.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:
4. A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –
5. (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
6. Claims 1, 2, 4-6, and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Fujita et al. WO 02/101112 for the reasons of record in the Office Action mailed on 24 March 2006.

Response to Amendment

7. In view of applicant's amendments and arguments, applicant traverses the section 112, second paragraph rejection of the Office Action mailed on 24 March 2006. Rejections are withdrawn.
8. In view of applicant's amendments and arguments, applicant traverses the section 102 rejection over Fujita et al. of the Office Action mailed on 24 March 2006. Applicant argues that the sheets of Fujita are made in a manner different from applicant's. Applicant argues that oxides of applicant's laminates are positioned between the steel sheet and the plating layer, whereas Fujita discloses oxides as a feature of the grain boundary in the depth direction of the steel sheet. While both characterizations may be accurate, applicant's claim can be interpreted to encompass the laminates of Fujita. The described sheets of Fujita contain the claimed amounts of Si, Al, and Mn oxides notwithstanding their presence at grain boundaries. The layer containing the oxides is on a steel surface even though the layer with oxides also contains some steel material. With respect to Claim 14, the thickness of the oxide layer may be less than 3 microns, and, in addition to grain interfacial zones, the steel material lacking oxide may constitute the claimed gaps between oxides. Rejection is maintained.

Conclusion

9. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP

§ 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

10. A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
